

About CIVIC

The Council for International Visitors to Iowa Cities (CIVIC) is a non-profit organization that hosts international visitors from around the globe. Our visitors are leaders in their fields and come from both public and private sectors. CIVIC fosters relationships between our visitors and eastern lowans by scheduling professional meetings, arranging home hospitality dinners, and planning cultural excursions. By building global ties locally, CIVIC aims to facilitate the exchange of ideas and foster mutual understanding.

WORDS FROM A VISITOR:

*SOUTH AFRICA:
INTERSECTION OF
GOVERNMENT AND PRESS*

SEPTEMBER 2-5, 2013

“... and how at home I felt, literally. Iowa City, and especially the intersection of Dubuque and College reminded me of the college campuses around Cape Town... the experience in Iowa City gave us an insight into an America that we’re not usually exposed to back home...”

-Lester Kiewit
